THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Order as to Explosions, &c.-The Small Boy's Liberty to Be Abridged.

Major Brock yesterday issued the usual order prohibiting the firing of crackers, &c., on the Fourth of July. This order is all very well in its way, but will be of no practical use. The wielder of this pencil has at his own house a trio of boys who will be satisfied with nothing less than a box of crackers, and those crackers will be fired if he and the boys have to stay in the back yard all day. He remembers that he was a boy once himself. The order is as follows:

HEADQUARTERS METROPOLITAN POLICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28, 1881. Lieutenaut: The attention of the force is hereby called to section 4, page 190, Webb's digest, under the need "Gunpowder," which states: "It shall not be lawchildren, under the age of sixteen years, firearms, gunpowder, gun-caps, or other explosive substances, in any quanty or quantities, under a penalty of five dollars for each offense; to be collected and applied

Also to portion of section 3, page 310, of same, under the head of "Preservation of Order and Properry," which states: "And it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to set off any fire-crackers. squibs, or other artificial fireworks, in any street or avenue within one hundred vards of any dwellinghouse, under a penalty of not exceeding $5, nor less than $1, for each and every such offense." You will see that due attention is paid to the above laws, more especially to boys firing pistols or exploding large torpedoes in the public streets. WM. G. BROCK.

An Appeal for " Bud" Eggleston. To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN. Among the many who suffered by the late storm was one, at least, who can illy afford it-the more particularly as his work is one of pure charity. "Bud" Eggleston's tent on Capitol Hill was blown over, the walls torn to ribbons, the lamps and chimneys broken to pieces, and the or-gat destroyed. Mr. Eggleston is a poor man—a day labores—and cannot afford the loss. If he has to pay it he will have to take it from his family. What Christian or body of Christians will meet this bill, and thus help their cause?

Where to Spend the Glorious Fourth. To get up on the morning of the Fourth and feel ust in exactly the right mood to spend the glorious Fourth gloriously is a foregone happy conclusion in the mountains. Such a sleep as one has at either Deer Park or Oakland cannot be had at this season of the year at lower altitudes. Three thousand feet above the sea! The very thought is invigorating, and the impulse is to go straightway and secure the pasteboard for the trip.
